Poster Session Guidelines: Friday, October 26\textsuperscript{th} from 11:45am – 12:45pm 2018 Global Injustice Conference October 25\textsuperscript{th}-27\textsuperscript{th}, 2018

The Global Injustice Conference is envisioned as a three-day program open to the Washington University community. Our goals are:

- To facilitate productive dialogue between the students and both academic and seasoned practitioners who are experts and activists
- To consider the structural and social causes of injustice as well as how different groups and individuals experience it and what we can do to mitigate its effects
- To incorporate a variety of perspectives, thereby leaving conference participants with a transdisciplinary understanding of this wicked problem
- To discuss the history and current research of interventions in order to align them with the framework of evidence-based practice
- To engage students in a practical exercise of conflict resolution among stakeholders through an environmental justice case competition
- To foster collaboration and connection among Washington University undergraduate and graduate students as well as alumni and other professionals in the field

Poster Session Guidelines

When: Students will be able to present their posters, experiences, and research on October 26 from 11:45am -12:45pm in Brown Lounge, Brown Hall.

Description: Please design an academic poster, PowerPoint, or slideshow highlighting your research or experience.

An academic poster is a summary of your research project or international practicum experience; it should be visually engaging and sound. Descriptive text should be brief and you should highlight information in the form of graphs, charts, etc., while showing the content of your research or experience through photographs, maps, etc. The poster may include photographs, maps, charts, tables, figures, footnotes, references, and other pertinent information. You should prepare a two- minute presentation of your poster that you can deliver to anyone viewing your poster at the conference.

Sample headings for overseas experience: Agency overview; Needs Assessment; Interventions; Evaluation; Next Steps

Sample headings for research: Problem Statement; Hypothesis, Data and Methodology; Analysis, Conclusion/Recommendations.

Specifications: The poster will be color printed by the Career Center and Global Programs Office. It must be formatted to fit a maximum page size of 34” x 44” inches or less formatted horizontally. We will print posters that do not conform to these dimensions

Submission Guidelines: Poster topics should be submitted via email to the gppcareers@wustl.edu by October 15 for approval. Submissions should include, at a minimum, your name and degree information, title of the poster, summary of research question or organization that you’re presenting on, and a conclusion or recommendation based off your research or experience.

Completed poster submissions will be submitted by October 15– late submissions will not be printed. Files should be submitted in PDF, JPEG or PowerPoint format, and photos and graphics should be high resolution as to stand out clearly on the poster. The day of the conference, students will be able to access their printed posters and provided foam core and easels.

Submissions and further questions can be addressed to Amy Heath-Carpentier at gppcareers@wustl.edu.
